

How to find what you need 7.1

To assist in locating appropriate logo and graphic artwork a logical file naming system has been developed.

A logo descriptor identifies a logo version while the following components refer to a logo's appearance, colour, resolution and file format.

WHERE TO SOURCE

Contact Print Production on 61 7 3535 5486
or email printproduction@tq.com.au

FILE FORMATS AVAILABLE

EPS (Encapsulated PostScript) Eps files are predominately used in graphic design applications and for the production of artwork for print. Most design, advertising and production studios will require this format. EPS files can be enlarged without losing quality.

JPG Jpg files are compressed image based files therefore will lose quality when they are enlarged.

GIF Gif files are compressed web files.

RESOLUTION

HR 300dpi files are high resolution for printing

LR 72dpi files are low resolution for screen representation (ie, web and digital newsletters)
