

Maira's Shining Story

Tell us about your TQ Story...

I joined TQ in July 2008 as the Research Analyst in the Strategy and Research team. I was in this role for two years, before taking up a secondment in the Brand and Marketing team as the Marketing Coordinator for the Sunshine Coast and Fraser Coast.

What is your favourite thing about working at TQ?

Definitely the people you work with at TQ. As well as being experts in their field, they are really easy to work with, very approachable and easy going. Oh, and the morning teas sometimes held for birthdays are also a highlight!

What are some of the challenges you have faced along the way?

Like many jobs there are often a number of competing priorities, so balancing these is often a daily challenge.

What has been your career highlight so far?

There are a couple of highlights that spring to mind. Receiving an award for excellence for internal client service at this years awards day was a real honour, (and I got a great prize!). In my current role I've been working on the new Sunshine Coast brand, and whilst it has been a really busy time I have gained a lot of new skills and valuable experience in areas such as film and photo shoots, logo development, and plenty more.
